

Biochar Houseplant Booster

Carbon Gold's Houseplant Booster is a must-have for all indoor plant enthusiasts. This exceptional product is specially designed to nourish and revitalise your houseplants, ensuring they thrive in the indoor environment. Elevate your indoor gardening experience by adding biochar enriched with natural biology into your plant pots.

How to use

The best time to use Houseplant Booster is when repotting your indoor plants. Take your plant out of its existing pot and remove any loose substrate from around the roots.

Add new potting mix at the base of the new pot, and sprinkle the Houseplant Booster into the pot (1-2 tsp is enough depending on the size of the pot!) Backfill the rest of the pot and lightly compress. Water as normal.

Remember that biochar holds six times its weight in water, so you will not need to water as often!
